SATURDAYAUGUST 5 189 THE LOST CHORD

Seated one day at the organ, I was weary and ill at ease, And my fingers wandered idly Over the noisy keys.

I do not know what I was playing, Or what I was dreaming then; But I struck one chord of music, Like the sound of a great Amen!

It flooded the crimson twilight Like the close of an angel's psalm, And it lay on my fevered spirit, With a touch of infinite calm.

It quieted pain and sorrow, Like love overcoming strife; It seemed the harmonious echo From our discordant life.

It linked all perplexing meanings Into one perfect peace, And trembled away into silence, As if it were loath to cease.

I have sought, but I seek it vainly, That one lost chord, divine, That came from the soul of the organ And entered into mine

It may be that Death's bright angel Will speak in that chord again; It may be that only in Heaven I shall hear that grand amen. -Adelaide Proctor

VIRGINIA CONVICT'S STORY.

Sensational Publication in New York Paper Not Based on Truth.

The New York Journal of Sunday published, in a column article, a sensational story criticising the treatment of convicts in the Virginia penitentiary. The information, it was stated was based on letters written by one of the convicts and smuggled to a friend on the outside, who in turn sent it to the Journal. The charges made in the article are that the men are compelled to subsist on the crudest fare, are crowded to the point of suffocation in their cells, are whipped unmercifully for slight of-fences, are robbed of earnings for extra work, and given no chance to earn early discharge under the "Con-ditional Pardon" act.

Mr. A. C. Harman, president of the Penitentiary Board of Directors, was seen yesterday by a Times representative in reference to the charges. He characterized the article as highly sensational and devoid of truth. It is true, he said, that the rations are not what an epicure would choose, but the food was wholesome and the day. W. H. RICHARDS, Gen 1 managed day. W. H. RICHARDS, Gen 1 managed at 2 managed to the purpose. Corporeal punishment was inflicted in each month at 3 p. m. rules necessary to the government of the prison, but such punishment did not verge upon the point of inhu-manity recited in the Journal article. It was pointed out in reference to the charge that the cells were overcrowded that the matter of additional quarters is now a subject of earnest inquiry on the part of the State Legislature, which debated the question of an appropriation for the pur pose at its last session.

Mr. Harman stated that recently committee, on which are Rev. Gravatt, of the Holy Trinity Chure and Rev. Dr. Cooper, of the Fi Baptist Church, was appointed make a report on the workings of t penitentiary. The committee, said, has visited the institution, a have found conditions as good they could possibly be under the ci cumstances, and would make a port showing the management to be discharging its duty faithfully and to the best of its ability.

The Rev. W. B. Costley, of Stock-bridge, Ga., while attending to his pastoral duties at Ellenwood, that state, was attacked by cholera morbus. He says: "By chance I happened to get hold of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I think it was the means of saving my It relieved me at once. " For sale by M. M. Lewis, Druggist.

Exit General Alger. The Baltimore Sun says : Gen. Russell A. Alger yesterday retired from the Cabinet, and his suc cessor, Elihu Root, of New York, qualified as Secretary of War. Gen-eral Alger glided out of office with as much unction as if he retired of his own volition and had not practi-cally been shoved out. If he cherished any resentment, he disguised it most admirably and simulated a cheerfulness which suggested that not he but Mr. Root was the victim. "Here," he said to his successor, "is your commission, in which you lose your identity and become Mr. Secre-tary. I go back to become a sover-sign citizen of the United States and become Mr. Alger." As a "sover-eign citizen" Mr. Alger will have an excellent opportunity to "get even" with the Administration, which has deliberately made a scapegoat of has deliberately made a scapegoat of him. He has not had his money's worth if he was, as has been often alleged, a generous contributor to the Republican campaign fund in 1896, and was given a Cabinet position in exchange for his money. If he should retaliate upon the President for his enforced retirement, he could give Mr. McKinley many "bad quarters of an hour" before the Republican National Convention meets next year. It would not be necessary for Mr. Alger himself to make the for Mr. Alger himself to make the disclosures. He can induce the irrepressible Pingree to act as his mouthpiece, and as that erratic gentleman seems to be spoiling for a fight with Mr. McKinley, he would doubtless welcome the opportunity to tell the country what Mt. Alger knows. It is not improbable the public will learn in the early future a number of things which the Administration would like to keep quiet. It is true Mr. Alger has retired breathing blessings upon those who pushed him out of the Cabinet, but the President is too old a politician to place confi-dence in Mr. Alger's "Heaven bless you; may you prosper." Having experienced the disagreeable sensation of being a victim, Mr. Alger may not find it inconsistent with his blessing to impart the sensation to his good friends who shoved him bodily out of his position and thrust him out into the cold-

Mr. John Mathias, a well known stock dealer of Pulaski, Ky., says: "After suffering for over a week with flux, and my physician having failed to relieve me, I was advised to try Chamberlain's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhosa Remedy, and have the pleasure of stating that the half of one bottle cared me." For sale by M. M. Lewis, Druggist.

Catarrh is Not Incurable

But it can not be cured by sprays, washes and inhaling mixtures which reach only the surface. The disease is in the blood, and can only be reached through the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which can have any effect upon Catarrh; it cures the disease perma-nently and forever rids the system of every trace of the vile complaint.

tors relieved me only temporarily, and though I used them constantly for ten years, the disease had a firmer hold than ever. I tried a number of blood remedies, but their mineral ingredients eettled in my bones and gave me rheumatism I was in a lamentable condition, and after ex hausting all treatment, was declared incurable Seeing S. S. S. advertised as a cure for blood diseases, I decided to try is. As soon as my system was under the effect of the medicine, I began to improve, and after taking it for two months I was sured completely, the dreadful disease was eradicated from my system, and I have had no return of it." Many have been taking local treat-ment for years, and find themselves worse now than ever. A trial of

THE BEST Washing Powder

AN IMMENSE STOCK.

The great-advance in all cotton goods has caused us to buy early the largest stock of goods we have ever had. This was necessary to enable us to sell them to you at old prices. This has been the sharpest advance I have seen in 20 years, except in two instances. How much higher, or how long the advance will hold, no one can tell. So to be on the safe side I would advise you to buy early what you need.

We can still sell you a very good Brown Cotton at 3c., a better one at 4e., and the best at 5e. My stock has been well bought, and goods well bought are half sold, was well said. We honestly believe we own today one of the cheapest, if not the cheapest stock of goods in any retail store in Virginia. No matter what you want in

THE POPULISTS.

The Populist State Committee held a meeting Friday night at the Arlington Hotel, in this city. All the members of the Executive Committee — Messrs. J. Haskins Hobson, of Powbatan, chairman: W. E. Grant, E. of Richmond, secretary; W. H. Gravely, of Henry; State Senator W. H. Hale, of Franklin, and Dr. T. W. Evans, of Campbell—were present, together with eight other mem pers of the State Committee. The meeting continued until some time after midnight. An address to the voters was adopted, and the com-mittee then began work on a plan of action for the coming campaign.

The address, as adopted, complains of the heavy taxation and unneces-sary number of office-holders; decries he Republican and Democratic part es; complains of rings and cliques objects to the leadership of Senator Martin; calls upon the independent people of all parties to unite and seare control of the next General As sembly; declares for reform in our system of jurisprudence, and closes as follows:

1. We demand the destruction of trusts, by making it a felony to organize or be interested directly or indirectly in one.

Society of the Queen's Kiss A dispatch from London to the N.

. World says : There has died in Essex, accord ng to the Evening News, the last urvivor of the famous band of girls known as the Society of the Queen's Kiss. The society had its origin when the Queen, then nearly a year old, was being wheeled about the park by a curse and was suddenly surrounded by a groop of laughing chool girls, who reconized the infant

"The purse's scruples soon yielded to the persussion of shillings which the girls displayed. Permission be ing granted, the royal baby was al most smothered with the children's hearty caresses, while stowed away in the back of the perambulator were 10 shillings, the nurse's kissing fees. There was, however, great commo tion in the Duchess of Kent's house hold when the affair became known and the erring nurse was deposed. "The maidens subsequently formed a society when the young princess became Queen and recalled the inci-dent to her. 'We are,' they wrote the first of your subjects from whom your Majesty received homage.' And on occasions of impor-tant festivities from time to time they addressed expressions of allegiance to the Queen. But the mem-bers have gradually died. With this old lady's death the Society of the Queen's Kiss has passed from existence."

A Broad Indictment.

(From the New Orleans State) "I wish for your continued health," wrote Mr. Alger in his letter of resignation. "I desire to wish you a long and happy life," wrote the president in accepting the same. This was all perfunctory, of course; a proper observance of the forms of epistolary courtey in a correspondece from which words of sincere and genuine endearment were excluded by the circum stance that called it forth. But Mr. McKinley was not content with this, His inclination to play the role of hypocrite was irrepressible. He thanked his dismissed Secretary for "the faithful service" he had rendered the country the last two years. Now if, he had rendered such service then the driving out of a faithful servant was inexcusable and cowardly. If he had not, then the President of these great United States stooped to disreputable deceit, not to say flat-footed lying.
